The Geo-Information Society of South Africa (GISSA) is hosting an annual GIS week exhibition from 15 - 19 March of 2010. The event is aimed at school learners in geography and IT fields.

We will also be hosting an Olympiad event which will include 24 schools from the Western Cape. The Olympiad will take place on 19 March and includes a field activity, a GIS arc view activity, a freaky photo race using aerial photographs and autho-photos.

Entrance to the exhibition is free and it will be held at the University of the Western Cape in Bellville. The event will take the form of an exhibition, GIS lecture and GIS hands on computer presentation.

We host approximately 1500 under privileged school learners for the week and are looking at doubling the numbers for 2010. Problems have arisen over the last few years and we are asking for donations and or sponsors for the following items:

- Transport to and from the school to the venue, part of or fully
- T-shirts for their field activities
- Juice / cool drinks / water / fruit / chips / any snacks
- Pens / pencils / rulers
- Spot prizes for any learner who participates in answering questions during the lectures

We offer:

Free advertising for the week of GIS week inside and outside the great hall at the University of the Western Cape and on invitations that go to all exhibitors and schools in the Western Cape.

Thank you for your time and effort
Karen Heath
